

Workshop

Current issues in Demand Side Management

Where: Radisson Blu Royal Garden Hotel, Kjøpmannsgaten 73, Trondheim
 When: 18. April 2012, 09.30 – 15.30
 Hosts: The International Energy Agency – Demand Side Management Programme (IEA-DSM) and Enova SF
 Cost: The workshop, lunch included, is free
 Sign up: By email to even.bjornstad@enova.no. Capacity is limited.

Agenda:

08.30 – 09.30	Registration, coffee
Session 1: DSM from the IEA perspective
09.30 – 09.45	What is the IEA-DSM and what does it do? Rob Kool, Chairman IEA-DSM, NL Agency, Netherlands
09.45 – 10.15	DSM in the 21st century - Large scale deployment of energy efficiency for sustainable energy systems. Hans Nilsson, Former chairman of the IEA-DSM, Fourfact, Sweden
10.15 – 10.40	Principal and practical challenges with increasing complexity in the generation system through the DSM integration. Seppo Kärkkäinen, Elektraflex Oy, Finland
10.40 – 10.55	Break
10.55 – 11.20	ESCo Market Development: Business Models, Innovations and Lessons Learned. Jan Bleyl-Androschin, Graz Energy Agency, Austria
11.20 – 11.45	International experiences with savings obligations/white certificates. Richard Cowart, The Regulatory Assistance Project, USA
11.45 – 12.10	End user behavioural aspects of Smart Grids. Linda Hull, EA Technology, UK
12.15 – 13.00	Lunch
Session 2: DSM in the Norwegian context
13.00 – 13.25	The future power system - opportunities and challenges. Jan Ove Gjerde, Statnett SF
13.25 – 13.50	DSM and Norwegian energy efficiency programs. Audhild Kvam, Enova SF
13.50 – 14.20	Marked Based Demand Response - Results from Norwegian research projects. Hanne Sæle and Ove Grande, SINTEF Energy Research
14.20 – 14.30	Coffee refill
14.30 – 14.55	The DeVID project. Dag Eirik Nordgård, SINTEF Energy Research
14.55 – 15.20	Entitled to Energy? How households think about and manage their energy consumption. Knut Holtan Sørensen, Department of Interdisciplinary Studies of Culture, Norwegian University of Science and Technology (NTNU)
15.20 – 15.30	Some final remarks and end.